

Copper Peptide Cheat Sheet

Your quick-reference guide for getting the most from your cream

How to Layer It

MORNING (AM)	EVENING (PM)
1. Gentle Cleanser	1. Gentle Cleanser
2. Water-based Serum (if using)	2. Water-based Serum (if using)
3. Copper Peptide Cream	3. Copper Peptide Cream
4. SPF 30+ (always last)	4. Face Oil or Night Cream (optional)

What Plays Nice (and What Doesn't)

INGREDIENT	COMPATIBLE?	HOW TO USE SAFELY
Vitamin C	Separate	Vitamin C in AM, Copper Peptides in PM
AHAs / BHAs	Separate	Alternate nights (acids 1-2x/week)
Retinol	With caution	Alternate nights, or Copper AM + Retinol PM
Niacinamide	Yes	Great pairing. Apply niacinamide first, then cream
Hyaluronic Acid	Yes	Apply HA on damp skin, then cream on top

What to Expect (Be Patient)

TIMEFRAME	WHAT YOU'LL NOTICE
Week 1-2	Better hydration, softer texture, calmer complexion. No wrinkle changes yet.
Week 3-4	Smoother-looking skin, improved glow, more even texture. Skin looks more rested.
Month 2-3	Cumulative results: improved firmness, softer fine lines, healthier-looking tone.
What it WON'T do	Erase deep wrinkles, replace procedures, produce overnight results.

5 Mistakes to Avoid

- Mixing with Vitamin C in the same application. Use them at different times of day.
- Applying after thick oils. Copper peptides are water-loving. Apply before oils, not after.

3. Quitting before week 8. Real changes in skin structure take 60-90 days to show.

4. Using too much. A pea-sized amount covers your whole face. More product does not equal faster results.

5. Forgetting your neck. The skin below your jawline loses elasticity fast. Always extend downward.

Storage: Room temperature (68-75F). Avoid direct sunlight and steamy bathrooms. Close lid tightly after each use. Use within 6-12 months of opening (check PAO symbol on jar). Wash hands before use or use a clean spatula.
